

Membership Overview

One Water, One Future.

The US Water Alliance is a national membership organization that advances policies and programs to secure a sustainable One Water future for all.

We are a growing alliance of more than 200 leading organizations transforming how the nation views, values, and manages water. We are a movement of champions who advocate and drive solutions to make One Water the new normal in water management and thriving communities.

Our member and partner base works in disciplines that span water management including water, wastewater, and stormwater utilities and public agencies of all sizes, community-based organizations, leading engineering and design firms, water technology providers, corporate water stewards, arts and cultural leaders, environmental justice advocates, academic institutions, labor, and philanthropy. We advocate for all who have a stake in our water future.

Water defines our future. Safe, reliable water access is a shared value across our country—yet it eludes millions of Americans. For too long, our nation has underinvested in our water systems and neglected to protect vital freshwater resources. Climate change is shifting the planetary water cycle, causing extended droughts, extreme storms, and catastrophic flooding, as well as heating and acidification of the oceans. These and other water challenges further compromise the nation’s water future—putting people, communities, ecosystems, economic development, and even social and civil cohesion at risk. To forge progress, we must tackle the very roots of the systemic challenges to our nation’s water security. At the US Water Alliance, we believe everyone has a role in securing our water future. That’s why we inspire and sustain a diverse movement to advance transformative solutions to pressing water challenges so communities can thrive.

When you become a member of the US Water Alliance, you join those who believe that water can be a pathway to essential needs: thriving communities, reliable and resilient water management, sustainable and competitive industry, regenerative agricultural systems, healthy watersheds, social and civil cohesion, social, economic, and environmental justice, and a livable planet. We are stronger together. Join the US Water Alliance and the One Water movement today.

One Water is both a way of thinking and a way of doing. The One Water approach manages all water—whether from the tap, a stream, a storm, an aquifer, or a sewer—in a collaborative, integrated, inclusive, and holistic manner. One Water can change and regenerate the way we live, the opportunities we have, our environment, and our society.

WHAT WE DO:

EDUCATE. We educate the nation on the true value of water and engage an expanding base of One Water champions through mutual discovery, learning, and communications.	INITIATE. We accelerate the adoption and scaling of the mindset, practices, and policies behind the One Water approach to advance a better quality of life for all.	CELEBRATE.
